KEY CENTERS IN GERMANY AND ITALY HAMMERED BY ALLIES

TEN AIRFIELDS NEAR FOGGIA ARE BOMBED

Lightning Fighters Hedge-hop All Way Across Italy To Adriatic Side of Peninsula

AT TREE TOP LEVELS

BY REILMAN MORIN

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Aug. 26.—(P)—Roaring swarms of Lightning fighters hedge-hopped the way across Italy and shot up ground defenses at Foggia yesterday, preparing the way for the all American wrecking of the airdrome and 10 satellite fields by three waves of Flying Fortresses and Liberators.

The Lightnings were especially equipped for the long distance run to Foggia, southeast of Naples and on the Adriatic side of the peninsula. Twenty-six enemy planes were shot down in combat and Allied sweeps over southern Italy and scores of others were knocked to pieces on the ground.

Going the whole distance at an altitude of less than 100 feet, the Lightning pilots said Italians along the route waved and cheered as they passed.

The tree top level flight threw the whole Foggia area into confusion, out witting Axis ground defenses and snarling the enemy's detection apparatus.

RAF and Canadian Wellingtons followed the Foggia raids by smashing at the night yards at Taranto before dawn this morning. Rear gunners saw bursts and fires across the targets at this important naval base and railway control point despite a smoke screen which started drifting across the objectives.

Other RAF Halifaxes and Liberators from the Middle East, the preceding night attacked the railway yards at Crotone, on the gulf of Taranto, starting many fires and damaging a chemical plant.

It was the first time in this theatre that fighters in such strength had flown so far and at such low level (the distance is about 440 miles, round trip, from the nearest airdrome in Sicily).

Ground troops and air crews searched in all directions and the fighters' machine-guns cut them down before they could reach shelter.

Some threw rocks and fired pistols wildly at the low flying machines which swept by unharmed in deadly automatic precision, spaced in successive waves five to 10 minutes apart.

Some German fighters attempted to get into the air after the first formation swept over, but few, if any, made it.

The raid was described officially as "one of the most successful surprise air attacks of the war."

Armistice Mission Is Not Confirmed

Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 26.—(P)—An Italian frontier report to the Zurich newspaper Die Tat said that a diplomatic mission headed by Count Dino Grandi, former Italian ambassador to Britain, had arrived in Lisbon and that its aim was believed to be armistice negotiations with the Allies.

(The report was entirely unconfirmed and London authorities said they had no knowledge of such a mission and placed no credence in the report.)

Reuters quoted Die Tat as saying arrival of the mission denoted that "Italian negotiations with a British delegation for an armistice and possibly a separate peace are being continued and even speeded up."

Kiev May Be The Objective Of Red Drive

Russian Surge Carries Advance Guard 85 Miles West of Kharkov

ZENKOV IS OCCUPIED

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Aug. 26.—(P)—The Red army, driving straight through the heart of Ukraine, has covered one-third of the distance from Kharkov to Kiev, dispatches from the front disclosed today.

The Russian surge across the high water mark of their winter advance has forced the Germans to retreat from the region of Zenkov, which was captured yesterday.

The army newspaper Red Star said. This put the Soviet advance guard about 85 miles west of Kharkov and 170 miles east of Kiev.

Striking across the broad plains 40 miles north of Poltava, a key railway junction, the Russians appeared to be making a bee line toward Kiev, paralleling the northwestern bend of the Dnieper.

Red Star said the Germans attempted to make a stand at Zenkov, concentrating numerous reserves and organizing special units for counter attacks.

New Operation Is Foreshadowed In Appointment

By the Associated Press

Appointment of Lord Louis Mountbatten, warrior-chief of British combined operations, as supreme Allied commander in southeastern Asia, was widely interpreted today as foreshadowing land, sea, and air operations against the Japanese in Burma.

A prime objective would be to ease the burden borne by China, and open the Burma road to strike knockout blows at Japan itself.

MacArthur's jungle troops now are within a mile of Salamaua airfield on New Guinea, and his command today reported no major actions either there or on New Georgia in the Solomons. Bad weather grounded planes.

U. S. 4th Air Force bombers hit hard again at Japanese airbases Tuesday, starting great fires, and knocking down at least 19 Zero fighters. Two Liberators were lost. Tokyo said that 10 American planes were downed at Hankow and that some 20 Allied planes tried to raid Hongkong yesterday, but succeeded only in dropping a few bombs from high altitude.

The Chinese High Command reported a raid on Fuyang in northern Chichang province some 14 miles west of Hangchow. Several hundred Japanese were killed or wounded and defense works destroyed by Chinese troops that later evacuated the town, Chungking said.

Government Places Lewis On Defensive

United Mine Workers' President Has Capital Guessing On Next Move

GIVEN TWO SETBACKS

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

Washington, Aug. 26.—(P)—Aggressive John L. Lewis is on the defensive.

On successive days the government turned back a batch of 53 mines to their owners, in disregard of his union's terms, and then refused for a second time to approve a portal-to-portal pay for the miners.

But the United Mine Workers' president, with a reputation for making and exploiting opportunities, is keeping everybody guessing about his next move.

While Lewis was silent, a philosophical acceptance of developments was nevertheless discernible today among his associates. The possibility of a union policy committee meeting soon was given no support, although that has been the usual step when Lewis was planning new exploits.

The statutory status given the War Labor Board (WLB), which he once defied, the penalties for striking under the new War Labor Disputes Act and the WLB compliance sanctions approved by the president apparently have forced Lewis to revamp his entire strategy. He may await the WLB's decision on the anthracite wage dispute before determining upon his next move.

The interpretation that a turn-back of the mines to private ownership automatically meant a strike is unofficially disclaimed in UMW circles. The policy committee's statement in June directed the miners to return to work until Oct. 31 with the proviso that this arrangement would "automatically terminate" if the government relinquished its custody of the mines before then. UMW sources now say this was a reservation, not a threat, and furthermore they emphasize that it was an official policy committee statement and not a personal commitment.

Farnsworth Death Being Investigated

Hollywood, Aug. 26.—(P)—The coroner's office ordered an autopsy today in the death of Arthur Farnsworth, 36, husband of Screen Actress Bette Davis and western representative of a Minneapolis firm manufacturing aeronautical equipment.

Farnsworth, former commercial pilot, succumbed yesterday to injuries sustained in a manner which police said was puzzling. He was found unconscious on a Hollywood Boulevard sidewalk Monday. Dr. Paul Moore stated Farnsworth suffered a basal fracture of the skull, presumably in a fall, and never regained consciousness sufficiently to relate what happened.

Miss Davis, at the bedside when death came, was overcome by grief and placed under a physician's care.

Det. Sgt. H. R. Johnson reported Dave Freedman, tobacco store proprietor, told him Farnsworth fell in front of his store.

SOLDIER SHOT WHILE GUARDING AT PIER

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—(P)—Pvt. James T. Wright, 21, of Santa Ana, Calif., was shot to death last night while on guard duty at a pier on the Delaware river waterfront.

An army spokesman said the bullet was from a .45-caliber service revolver in the hands of Corp. James Halpin, 22, but declined to disclose other details pending completion of an investigation.

Deputy Coroner John Gross, who made an investigation for civilian authorities, reported that the shooting was accidental.

Both Wright and Halpin were attached to a military police squadron.

People's Revolt Against Occupation Flares Up in Cities of Helsingfor And Vejle

DISRUPTS PRODUCTION

Stockholm, Aug. 26.—(P)—German soldiers, sped into Denmark to stamp out the people's revolt against Nazi occupation, fired a volley of shots during a disturbance in a crowded Copenhagen market place last night. The Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said today.

Despite the influx of troops and gestapo, the general strikes spread to the harbor cities of Helsingfor and Vejle, crippling German shipping and boat-building, and the state of emergency was extended to a seventh city, Roskilde.

Stories of the shooting, said to have occurred in the Raadhuspladsen in the center of Copenhagen—where Nazi machine-guns were reported spotted at strategic points—came from travelers reaching Malmö. They were unable to find out whether there had been any casualties, the paper said.

Production materials for Nazi submarines and other war ships were disrupted when, according to the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter, 6,000 workers struck Monday at the important Bumsen main works in Copenhagen.

German troops and members of the Gestapo moved into Roskilde, reportedly to "help the Danish authorities enforce the emergency regulations." Six other major Danish cities were placed under such a decree early this week.

First reports said there were 40,000 German soldiers in Copenhagen, but the latest information from Denmark is that there are only about one-fourth that number—most of them young recruits, with some veterans of the eastern front.

German Ambassador Werner Best met yesterday with Danish officials to confer on ways of halting the revolt, but there has been no information concerning the outcome of their discussions.

The Stockholm newspaper Social Demokraten reported today that 20 parachutes had been found in Denmark along the Aarhus trunk railway which was blasted in five places a few days ago.

This and other reports from Denmark suggested that airborne saboteurs were being flown from Britain to help the Danes in their revolt against German occupation forces.

Candidacy Of Bullitt Urged By President

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—(P)—William C. Bullitt consented to run for mayor of Philadelphia "at the request of the president of the United States," says Michael Harris, president of the Philadelphia Council of Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO).

Harris made the statement last night at a meeting of the United Labor Committee of Philadelphia which, claiming to represent 155,000 trade union members, voted 227-25 after a stormy debate to endorse Bullitt, who is seeking the Democratic nomination, in preference to acting Mayor Bernard Samuel, Republican.

A sub-committee reported that Bullitt, former ambassador to France and Russia, "rescinded his original decision not to run" at the request of President Roosevelt, vice-president Wallace and "three outstanding members of the president's cabinet."

Before Harris spoke Jules C. Abernethy, majority candidate on the Independent Voters' League ticket, assailed Bullitt as "a labor baiter and a hater of President Roosevelt."

Canteloupe Crop Is Watered by Firemen

Lancaster, Aug. 26.—(P)—Farmer Levi E. Stoltzfus would not have to worry now about his canteloupe crop drying up for lack of rain.

Responding to his urgent appeal, the Churchtown Fire Company rolled out to the farm yesterday with a pump and 200 feet of hose and soaked the entire acre-patch with water from Conestoga creek.

Boy Scouts in Rural Areas Are Completely Organized For Paper Pick-up Saturday

Final plans for the organization of Saturday's waste paper pick-up campaign by the Boy Scout troops in the area served by the Warren County Council were completed and announced today by B. W. Knapp, chairman of the local council's camping and activities committee. The response by Scouts and troop leaders to this vacation-time appeal for help in the war effort has been both enthusiastic and encouraging, Mr. Knapp said.

Nearly every troop in the council has accepted a territory to cover, house-to-house, for the purpose of collecting newspapers, magazines, corrugated cardboard and brown paper. In most cases the troops will be on the job by nine o'clock Saturday morning and it is hoped that the people will have their waste paper separated, bundled and on the curb prior to that time, so that the Scouts might complete their assignments without delay and not be in a position of bothering the folks at home by ringing the door bell and having to upset the morning routine at home.

The troops throughout the county and the territorial assignments which they have accepted are as follows:

North Warren Civic Club Troop No. 13 under the leadership of Ralph C. A'Harris, will cover the North Warren section. They are working in cooperation with Mr. Chris Pepke, Chairman of the local Salvage Committee.

Troop No. 14, Russell, under the leadership of T. M. Engle, Scoutmaster, will cover the Russell section. The troop is cooperating with Mr. John Moll, chairman of the local Salvage Committee. The Russell collection will be made Friday afternoon starting at 1:00 p. m. instead of the Saturday date scheduled for the rest of the county.

Lander, Troop No. 16, under the leadership of E. H. Spicer, Scoutmaster, have already completed their house-to-house newspaper pick-up.

Sugar Grove, Troop No. 17 under the leadership of G. R. Miller, Scoutmaster. This troop will cover Sugar Grove and vicinity.

Irvine Troop No. 22, under the leadership of W. C. Johnson, Troop Committee Chairman, will cover the community of Irvine and vicinity.

Youngsville Troop No. 31 will cooperate with the salvage effort under the direction of Mr. Elton Barton, chairman of the local salvage committee. Russell Crippen is scoutmaster of this troop.

At East Branch Troop No. 25, under the leadership of Darrell Lay, East Branch and vicinity.

Tidoute Troop No. 27, under the leadership of E. H. Cornish, Scoutmaster, the Scouts of the troop will cooperate in the salvage effort which is being given leadership of (Turn to Page Nine)

New York, Aug. 26.—(P)—Pan-American Airways estimated today that 1948 vacationers may be able to travel to Moscow over the top of the world for a round-trip fare of $259.20, using 19 hours of travel time in each direction.

Winant and Crew Safe In N. Africa

London, Aug. 26.—(P)—The Eighth U. S. Army Air Force bomber command announced today that Lt. John G. Winant, Jr., son of the United States ambassador to Britain, had landed safely in North Africa after turning back from a Britain-bound shuttle bombing formation Aug. 24.

Engine trouble apparently forced him from the formation on the trip to Britain.

Young Winant's plane was one of the Britain-based bombers which attacked Regensburg Aug. 17 and continued on the North Africa.

On the return flight, the plane was seen to head back toward North Africa when nearing the coast of France. Other crewmen of the flight said there was no indication that the ship was in serious difficulty.

McNutt Makes It Plain That Fathers Are Facing Draft

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, Aug. 26.—(P)—American draft age fathers—no matter when their children were born—today have this cold fact confronting them:

They face army induction.

War Manpower Commissioner Paul McNutt in a radio broadcast last night adhered to the policy he announced weeks ago: That after Oct. 1 all fathers are open to the draft.

That policy is: Henceforth any deferment fathers can expect depends upon how close their job is tied into the war, that the first fathers to go into the army will be those in jobs McNutt considered non-deferrable or unessential.

It is important to emphasize this because future deferment depends upon occupation, even though a

R. A. F. Mosquitoes Keep Berliners on Edge For Third Consecutive Night

ENEMY WATERS MINED

London, Aug. 26.—(P)—RAF Mosquitoes kept the nerves of Berliners on edge last night with the third raid on the German capital in as many nights.

The air ministry communique said one of last night's raiders was missing. Simultaneously with the new stab at Berlin, other aircraft laid mines in enemy waters, it was announced.

Meanwhile, a dispatch received through Stockholm said the death toll in Berlin during Monday night's bombing, when an estimated 700 heavy bombers made a smashing attack, would have been enormous if women and children had not been evacuated from the city.

The dispatch, from the Berlin correspondent of Stockholm's Tidningen, said every able-bodied person was mobilized for fire fighting and rescue work.

While keeping Berlin awake, the Mosquitoes put Axis radios to sleep. One after another the transmitters faded until there was a complete blackout of enemy broadcasts for most of the night all the way across Europe.

BBC and two neutral stations had the air to themselves.

Three German airfields and a power station in eastern France were raided yesterday by American and British medium bombers without loss.

U. S. Eighth Air Force Marauders concentrated on the power station at Rouen and the Tricouville airfield, while RAF Mitchells were bombing the Bernay St. Martin air base and the RAF Bostons one at Beaumont le Roger.

A joint communique said few enemy fighters were encountered. (Turn to Page Nine)

Nazi Destroyers Sink Swedish Ships

Stockholm, Aug. 26.—(P)—Three German destroyers sank two Swedish boats in the North Sea off the northwest tip of Denmark last night, the Swedish news agency reported in a Gothenburg dispatch today.

A foreign office spokesman said that it was an "extremely serious" affair and the worst in a series of incidents involving Germany since the sinking of the Swedish submarine Ulven April 16.

Accounts from Gothenburg said 12 Swedes might have lost their lives when the boats went down under the attack, wreathed in flames. Returning fishermen said the destroyers struck from a range of about 50 yards, although the boats were flying the Swedish flag and had blue and gold Swedish insignia painted on the sides.

Sweden ordered cessation of the movement of German troops and supplies by railroad across her neutral soil between Germany and Norway and Finland only this month.

HONEYMOON OF SUNNY AND TOMMY IS BRIEF

New York, Aug. 26.—(P)—Tommy Manville said today that he had called it quits with his seventh wife, the former Macie Marie (Sunny) Ainsworth whom he married yesterday, and that he would seek an annulment.

He said the breakup occurred last night, seven hours and 45 minutes after the wedding ceremony.

Cops Break Up a Necking Party Pronto

Deep dark suspicion on the part of the neighbors over a car parked in the dense shadows at the rear of the Abplanalp Dairy on Oak street last night made four faces red. The neighbors saw the car and called the cops. The officers hurried to the scene and there discovered two couples in the car enjoying the age old pastime of "spooning," "necking" or what have you. Flashlights of the cops caused the couples to "break" and there was no hitting at the break-away. Instead the quartet listened to the advice of the police to "get rolling" and the suspicious neighbors saw the car chug away in the night with four red faces glimpsing through the windshield. Sorta mean, eh?

And outside of this little affair the cops put silencers on a number of purps that were baying at the moon and tried the usual number of doors to discover that a few were open and needed to be locked.

Gavin Urges Hike In Price of Crude

Franklin, Aug. 26.—Congressman L. H. Gavin told Franklin business men that if the government would increase the ceiling of Pennsylvania grade crude oil $1 per barrel, the country would be well on the way to solving the present oil and gasoline bottleneck.

Production of Pennsylvania oil would be increased 15,000 barrels daily, allowing for production of 9,000,000 gallons of gasoline more each month than now is possible. Gavin said the price for Pennsylvania crude had been pegged since 1941, and government officials in Washington turned a deaf ear to any reasonable appeal to provide an increase or a bonus to the extent of $1 per barrel—deemed necessary in view of labor costs and tax increases.

What It Means

By ROBERT M. FARRINGTON

ANY vision of America becoming the world's greatest sea power with her huge prospective fleet of 50,000,000 deadweight tons (the equivalent of the pre-war merchant marines of Britain, U. S., Norway, Germany and Japan combined) must be tempered with at least two realistic considerations.

One, the cost of operating American ships is high (because of better food and wages) and make subsidies inevitable. After the war, taxpayers may be sensitive about laying out money indefinitely for operating bills which in 1940-41 ran over $13,000,000 when we had some 10,500,000 deadweight tons of ships. No one will even guess at the subsidies on five times this tonnage.

Two, foreign nations, especially Britain, depend a good deal on the income from their shipping and will build their own vessels to carry their goods—and probably half of ours, too. Not since clipper ship days (when American costs and wages were low) have we carried nearly all our own foreign trade. Just before the war we carried about 30 per cent, the balance went in foreign ships.

Dedicated reciprocal trade agreements would be upset and a pinch develop in some other trade or industry in the country, shipping circles believe, if we tried to insist on shipping American entirely. A 50-50 balance is about the best that can be hoped for, they say.

The postwar planning committee of the maritime commission currently is wrestling with the problem of utilizing our merchant fleet rather than laying out hundreds of ships to rust in idleness as was done after the last war.

A great rush of business, continuing for perhaps five years, is anticipated when peace comes. As part of a live-and-let-live policy, a large percentage of our slower Liberty ships may be sold to foreign countries who are without ocean tonnage.

Although these ships then would compete with American ships, this is a reasonable alternative to trying to corner all the trade, thus forcing other nations to build their own ships. The world would then end up with far more ships than trade, and everyone would suffer.

The maritime commission now is busy swinging over from the slow, easily-built Liberty ship to the more-complicated 15-17 knot Victory ship, believing fast cargo ships will give America the edge in post-war trade. Some 25 per cent of the fleet is expected to be Victory ships by the war's end, and these would be kept for purchase by Americans.

Disposing of the ships to private owners, both American and foreign, has reefs a plenty for the commission. The Liberty costs $165-170 a ton; the Victory "over $200." They can be built for much less in other countries because of cheaper labor and if the maritime commission holds out for the cost price, owners may turn around and order ships from foreign yards, meanwhile renting the American ships.

The commission already is authorized to allow American owners a construction differential of 50 per cent of the cost of building ships in foreign countries so as to encourage them to place their orders with American yards. In 1940-41 this differential subsidy almost reached $74,000,000.

In selling Liberties to other nations some sort of bargain rate may be established so as to dispose of the vessels while there are buyers.

The cost of a ship has a direct bearing on its profitable operation and if foreign buyers can make more money building their own ships they will, and finally a glut of ships may knock the bottom out of the market.

In the long run this might cost more than the loss America would take selling her ships below construction price.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Sam Abernethy's the Chief Rumor-Spiker in our town. If a stranger gets off something like "I hear they've sunk the S. S. Bumblebee," Sam starts pinning him down. Did he really see it? Where's the evidence? Because Sam knows, like the rest of us, that nine-tenths of the "inside news" passed around by careless folk isn't rumor—it's lies planted by the Axis to destroy American morale. Take those rumors about drinking in our Army Camps.

Actual, official facts from the government's own Office of War Information showed there wasn't a shred of truth in 'em. The boys enjoy a glass of beer occasionally—same as a lot of us do! And from where I sit, they're proving themselves the healthiest, best-disciplined bunch of fighting men in history, like the OWI report stated. That's good enough for me.

WARREN COUNTY WAR FUND DRIVE

Many questions are being asked regarding the Warren County War Fund Drive to be held in October, not only by members and prospective members of the organization, but also by "just folks"—the plain citizens who are beginning to estimate the amount they will be able to contribute to the campaign. While immediate attention is being focused on the War Bond drive in September, many people are looking ahead to the October effort, which will combine 17 national agencies with those local agencies usually included by the Community Chest.

In response to these questions, Edward W. Johnson, chairman of the county committee, called attention this morning to a recent statement by Girard Swope, chairman of the National Committee of the War Fund Budget. Mr. Swope's article, entitled "Along the Firing Line," says in part:

"Some Americans when asked to contribute to the National War Fund through their local united war fund campaigns may have some questions to ask. Why is the USO budget so much larger than last year? Who thought up the war relief projects? Are not Lend-Lease, the American Red Cross, and the Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation Operations already doing the foreign relief job? Can we spare the supplies? Is shipping space available? Does relief reach its destination—or fall into the hands of the enemy? What does it cost?"

"Whether or not anyone else asks these questions, the budget committee of the National War Fund has asked all of them, item by item, project by project. It has asked them of its seventeen member agencies. It has asked them of Lend-Lease, the State Department, the American Red Cross, the War Production Board, the Surgeon-General's office, the Department of Agriculture, and the President's War Relief Control Board. In fact, through a committee composed of representatives of each of these departments and agencies, the National War Fund has been in periodic consultation with them all.

"On the basis of the information obtained in the committee meetings, some of the items proposed for inclusion in the National War Fund have been dropped. Some have been transferred to the government. Some have been increased. Contributors can feel confident that the $125,000,000 budget of the National War Fund has been carefully prepared in the light of rock bottom needs."

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—If Italy should fold up quickly the laugh would be on our modern Billy Mitchells of the air force.

The reason: They might never have an opportunity to prove their chief contention that a nation can be bombed out of the war.

It will take history to prove the point, but the story already is leaking out here that when the United Nations armed forces big-wigs assembled around the strategy table, the air-minded enthusiasts had the balance of power and persuaded the others that our second big objective in the European theater should be Sicily.

Their sole reason was to prove to the military and civilian world that a nation could be bombed out of the war.

It's no particular secret that the British strategists had other ideas—their preference being the retaking of Crete and a drive through Greece and the Balkans. They had sound strategic reasons for their selection of that route was also colored by sentiment and national military pride.

They wanted to hit back in the same quarter where they had suffered one of their worst defeats. The French, on the other hand, wanted to get back to France as soon as possible. Even when the North African campaign was planned, they were insisting on direct invasion of the coasts of France.

WHEN Sicily was selected, the modern Billy Mitchells joyfully tossed their goggles in the air.

This was what they had been waiting for — air bases close enough to an enemy nation to go all out with shuttle bombings that would paralyze the nerve centers of war and leave the armies in the field merely military scarecrows, with no weapons, munitions, supplies or replacements to withstand even the threat of invasion.

IF EVER an air base were located to prove such a point, that base is Sicily. A little more than 500 air miles (a good deal less than the distance from New York to Chicago) and you have reached the northern Italian border. Selecting only the main military objectives, it would be, at the outside, no greater trick than bombing Los Angeles from San Francisco.

Now recent developments in Italy have got the Army's Billy Mitchells sweating blood. If Italy collapses like a thoroughly punctured blimp, they may never get an opportunity to prove their point in Europe.

MOUNTBATTEN'S APPOINTMENT

The appointment of Lord Mountbatten as supreme Allied commander in southwest Asia, announced last evening, brings to the command in that area a man trained for amphibious operations—one who rose from midshipman to skipper of the Illustrious, one who gained first-hand knowledge of land fighting and guerrilla tactics in building up the commandos.

Thus, in Mountbatten's background, military observers find basis for speculation that a direct blow by air and sea may be aimed in the near future at the vital port of Rangoon, even as the offensive down the Arakan coast is continued with stepped-up intensity.

The selection of Mountbatten, second cousin of King George VI, was the first translation into action of the Quebec strategy conferences, and his command presumably would work in cooperation with that of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, launching an offensive from India or Ceylon in coordination with MacArthur's southwest Pacific push.

Success in reopening the Burma road would serve the double objective of getting more supplies in to the Chinese forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, and as a route for bringing in fuel for Allied planes and bombers for a close-up air attack on Japan from Chinese bases.

VEGETABLE-BARRELING

Your Victory Garden harvest of beets, carrots, parsnips, potatoes and turnips can be stored safely for winter use in a barrel in your backyard.

The Department of Agriculture says the barrel should be half-buried in the ground, on its side, with a small, screened hole in the top for ventilation. Then it is covered with earth and straw, shaped like a tepee over the hole, which is not covered. When the vegetables are stored, the barrel lid is fitted on and earth packed against it for insulation. You can get out a week's supply of vegetables at a time by removing a little of the earth so the lid is free.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Lamb Curry! A Big Meal for 6

Even with rationing you can serve a big, hearty meat dinner that's so filling, so substantial...it fills the bill as well as any pre-war meal you ever had! For a delicious casserole of Lamb Curry takes only 1 1/2 pounds if you use lamb shoulder! 6 points if you use lamb shoulder!
Either way, you'll have enough for 5 or 6 main meat servings. If you use Armour's Star Lamb, you'll be sure of rich flavor and high nutrition, regardless of the cut you choose!
Have 1 1/2 lbs. of Star Lamb (breast or shoulder) cut into 1-inch cubes and brown lightly with 1/2 cup chopped onion. When light brown, add 3 cups hot water, 2 tps. salt, 1/4 tsp. thyme and simmer 1 1/2 hours over very low heat. When done, add 2 tps. flour mixed with 1/2 tsp. curry powder and enough cold water to make thin paste. Meanwhile, cook 3/4 cup rice in 4 cups salted water until tender (about 25 minutes). Rinse in hot water. Line casserole with thick layer of rice, packing well. Pour in curry mixture and serve at once.

Song Arrangement By Mrs. Kuester Is Used By Singer

When Josephine Antoine, Metropolitan opera soprano, sang "Springtime of Love" on the radio Monday night of this week, the arrangement used was one written by Edith Haines Kuester, of the Warren Conservatory of Music faculty.

A number of years ago Mrs. Kuester made a waltz song of the piano solo "Waltz in E, Opus 24" by Moszkowski. For the words, she translated an old German poem, "Spring Night". The firm which published Mrs. Kuester's arrangement at first used other words which she did not think were so appropriate for concert work. To singers, from time to time, she gave her words and, published later, the above song now uses her words.

Miss Antoine, singing in opera at Chautauque this summer and soloing with the symphony, has twice used the Kuester arrangement of "Springtime of Love" in radio broadcasts.

CALIFORNIA WEDDING OF INTEREST LOCALLY
Sugar Grove, Aug. 25—There is considerable local interest in the August 14 wedding of Pauline Emery, of Erie, and Capt. Laurence A. Scott, of Riverside, Calif., since the latter is the son of Mrs. Lucy Scott, of this place. The ceremony was performed in All Saints Episcopal church in Riverside by Rev. Richard I. Parker, pastor of Saint Cross Episcopal church of Hermosa Beach.

The bride wore a powder blue ensemble, with navy accessories and carried a small shower bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis. Mrs. Leland M. Backstrand as matron of honor wore a costume of black and white sheer, with grape colored hat and a gardenia corsage. Leland Backstrand was his cousin's best man. A reception followed at the Backstrand home.

Both young people were graduated from Meadville High School. The bride also graduated from Erie Business College and attended the University of Pittsburgh before entering the employ of the Skinner Engine Company at Erie. Capt. Scott is an alumnus of Redlands University and, before entering the army, was on the faculty of the Hermosa Beach city schools. He is now attached to a field artillery battalion.

PAC BREAKFAST FOR YOUNG PEOPLE
The Presbyterian Activities Club has planned breakfast and an outdoor service at Washington Park at 8:30 Sunday morning and extends a cordial invitation to all the young people of the community.

The young people are reminded that Laurel street is the shortest and quickest route to the picnic area and each is asked to bring his own food and be ready for breakfast promptly at the hour named above. In case of rain, the outing will be transferred to the basement of the Presbyterian church.

Also on the PAC schedule for the immediate future is the regular "mixed swim night" at the YMCA pool at seven o'clock next Tuesday evening.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The Visiting Celebrity was holding forth on Hollywood:

"These people, they live in a dream world. They draw fortunes for their work, but it's Confederate money. They don't really get it. Their agents take a cut, their managers take another. They have to keep up a front—in clothes, in cars, in homes and swimming pools. What for? To impress each other, they all go to Dave Chasen's or Mike Romanoff's for dinner, to be seen by each other, and what do they get out of it?"

The Resident Nonentity had an answer: "Maybe they get a steak," he said, drooling...

Martha Raye, a changed gal since her North African junket, is already planning another—this time to the South Pacific war zones where her current movie partner, Joe E. Brown, will recover fully from the fever she contracted in North Africa. She's in Betty Grable's "Pin Up Girl," and will star in "By Jupiter" after her tour...

MOVIE careers depend so often on chance. A few years ago Robert Donat was expected to return to Hollywood to make a movie, and while waiting the studio began testing leading ladies. They needed a hero for the tests, and they picked on a handsome newcomer whose previous movie experience had been to enact a torpedero. He tested and tested. Olivia De Havilland was chosen as leading lady, but Donat still had not arrived nor indicated when he would. Executives grew tired of it all, decided to give the hero of the tests the job—and so Errol Flynn, $75 a week stock player, made "Captain Blood" and stardom.

Six years ago, Allan Jones sang "The Donkey Serenade" in Jeanette MacDonald's "The Firefly." It was the best thing in the picture, and became a lasting hit. Now he's to sing it again in the Olsen-Johnson movie, "Crazy House." Allan's phonograph record of the number has sold in the thousands, but he has never received any royalties.

"The night I recorded the number," he says, "I rushed from the studio to be with my wife (Irene Hervey) who was expecting the stork. I arrived just five minutes before the baby came—and afterward, I decided to start a trust fund for him with any royalties that might accrue from the record." Young Jack Jones, now nearly six, has more than $25,000 in the fund now and still gets checks each quarter...

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD Joel Spivak, son of the trumpeting band-leader Charlie Spivak, has an interest in royalties too—his own. Before the Spivaks left New York for Charlie's work in "Pin Up Girl," young Joel buttonholed a music publisher's representative and ran through a number he had just whipped up on the piano—"Hop, Skip and Jump."

Joel's first royalty check was for $12, with more anticipated...

Chapter 12
"PAUL PORTER!" The name burst from her lips involuntarily.

The man bowed then, a sardonic little smile on his lips, and jumped down the bank to stand beside her.

"How do you do," he said formally in his beautifully clipped English.

In her relief, Bette almost giggled. "Hello. I've been looking for you."

Surprise barely flickered across his face before it became grave.

"Impressive again. 'For me?'" She nodded, still out of breath from her recent excitement, she glanced down the stream in the direction the bear had disappeared.

"I just saw a bear," she explained a little apologetically. "I haven't quite gotten over the fright yet."

"Bette was watching."

Bette stared at him. "You were watching—all the time?"

He nodded. "Of course. I have been following you ever since you came into the grizzly basin."

"You—all the time?" Bette gasped, incredulous. "Then why didn't you warn me when that bear—"

He shrugged. "I knew he would never discover you if you had the good sense to remain quiet. If you had moved, I would have shot him."

"Well—thanks very much. I wish I had known that." She managed a little laugh. "You'd have spared me a few very bad minutes there."

"It was a good lesson for you," he said dryly. "It is not safe this far from your post."

BETTE nodded, a wry smile curving her lips. "I quite agree with you. But I do have business with you, Mr. Porter. Urgent business."

He waited for her to go on. "You see one of our men came back into the end of the valley here, hoping to find a way over the mountains to the other side of the island."

If Porter had seen Scott, he made no sign. Bette rushed on hopefully.

"He's been gone now three days. We are alarmed because he has not returned or sent word."

I thought perhaps you could help us find him.

He looked at her shrewdly for a moment. "I know where he is. Come. I will show you."

Afterwards, Bette realized that this was the moment when she made her mistake. If she'd only given Porter the message, learned what she could of Scott's predicament, and fled back to the Post with the news, she might possibly have been in time.

As it was, she was too grateful for human companionship. Without a question, she fell into the trail Porter made along the river bank, walked farther and farther away from the Post.

They'd been walking Indian fashion and in perfect silence for nearly an hour when fear finally overtook her. Where was he taking her? And how did she know he really could lead her to Scott?

"Where are we going?" she demanded.

But her guide only half-turned his head, said over his shoulder, "To Captain MacQuaid's camp."

That reassured her a little. She hadn't called Scott by name. If Porter knew that, probably her fears were groundless. Anyway, there was nothing to do now but plod along. They'd long since left the stream bank and she wasn't at all sure she could find her way back through this tangled wild forest now. She simply had to believe him.

STILL, she was more than relieved to see a log cabin when, a moment later, they came out into a small meadow. And—she couldn't be sure but it looked like a woman sitting on the low step before the one door.

"Who is that?" she asked Porter as they crossed the meadow.

"My mother. My sister."

Scott's story of the strange Porter family came back vividly as she came close enough to see the older woman's stolid Eskimo face, framed by straight coarse black hair. How could an American—A Bostonian at that—have fallen in love with a strange, silent woman like this, she wondered as the woman nodded briefly, grunted as Porter introduced Bette.

Then Bette saw the sister. And realized suddenly that twenty years ago perhaps the old woman's leathery face had had a sort of wild beauty. The girl, black haired and black eyed, was pretty. But for her impassive expression and her Indian squaw blanket, one would never have guessed she was a half-breed.

"This is my sister, Illeana," Porter said courteously.

Bette, half expecting a grunt, was startled to hear the girl's silver-voiced.

"How do you do. Won't you come in?"

THE mother had not moved nor spoken since her first welcoming grunt. She sat as if carved of wood. Bette stepped past her, followed the girl into the cabin.

For a moment, her eyes accustomed to the light, failed to focus in the low-ceilinged room's murky shadows. Gradually she became aware of the strange assortment of furnishings. A hand-made sofa that bore the stamp of a good craftsman. Probably her engineer-father. Bette decided instantly. A table to match and a chair. Aside from these, nothing but piles of furs, hand-woven blankets, baskets.

A dog rose from one of the piles of skins in a corner, growled as she stepped into the room.

"Make yourself at home, won't you?" Paul Porter said then, having followed them silently into the room.

As always, Bette started to find him so close behind her.

"But—is Scott here? I thought you said—"

He bowed, that ceremonious little gesture of courtesy. "Your friend is some distance from here. We will stay the night and proceed with our journey tomorrow."

"Stay—but I can't!" Involuntarily she glanced at her watch. Almost three-thirty. "I have to be on duty in an hour and a half. Even if I'm late—I must get back!"

He shrugged again, elaborately. "You must realize that is impossible, Miss. Be reasonable."

Francie, Bette's thoughts flew in every direction searching for a way out. But, reluctantly returned to logic. It had taken her all day to get up here. How could she expect to get back before dark. He was right. But she'd been foolish to come. And what would they be thinking back at the Post.

Warren Electric Cooperative, Inc., Enters Its Fourth Year of Service to Farmers of County

The Warren Electric Cooperative, Inc., Youngville, this week enters its fourth year of supplying electric service to farmers and other rural consumers in this area.

Citing the progress of the Cooperative since its lines were first energized on August 20, 1940, Manager H. F. Curry recalled that the system had 307 consumers at the end of its first month of operation. Today the Cooperative furnishes electric service to 501 consumers along the 170 miles of distribution lines in Warren and Erie counties.

Farm members of the Cooperative have come to depend more and more on electric equipment to save labor and increase production of such vital foods as milk, eggs, poultry and meats, Mr. Curry said.

The 326 farms served by the Cooperative consumed an average of 94 kilowatt hours in June as compared with 74 kilowatt hours a year ago.

The Cooperative encourages its members to make the best possible use of existing electrical equipment and to build home-made devices, Mr. Curry said. The Cooperative has plans for several home-made devices, such as a chick brooder and fruit and vegetable dehydrator which requires few critical materials. Many of the electric devices saving a substantial amount of labor are in farm homes, including water systems, washing machines, ranges, refrigerators, and irons.

The War Production Board's liberalized service connection order has made it possible for the Cooperative to supply electricity to many new farms engaged in livestock, dairy and poultry production, according to Mr. Curry. Service has been extended to 21 farms under the order so far.

Farms eligible for such service are near present lines of the Cooperative. They must meet certain minimum production requirements and use one or more specified electric devices such as water pump for livestock, milking machine, milk cooler, incubator, feed grinder.

The Cooperative's program got under way on September 8, 1939, when the REA allocated $187,000 of its first loan to the system. Construction started after a contract had been let on January 4, 1940, for the building of 161 miles of line at a cost of $119,343. REA has advanced the Cooperative a total of $168,142.14 on its construction allotments as of June 30, 1943.

American League Champions Set Record of Having Won Twelve Consecutive Series

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The mathematical clock hasn't been turned yet, but the New York Yankees have just closed the door on another American League pennant, their seventh in eight years.

The St. Louis Cardinals have been conceded the National League flag for a couple of weeks or longer, but up until yesterday the diehards refused to admit that the American League race was over. The Yankees had been inconsistent and the Washington Senators had been persistent.

Now there no longer is any reason to doubt that the Yankees will be the host team when the world series opens in a little more than a month. They finished their last western trip with a bang (it was that door slamming) by doubling the Detroit Tigers in both ends of a double-header, 7-5 and 5-1.

This performance gave them a record of having won 12 consecutive series, a feat not equaled even by the great Yankee clubs of the past, and sent them home with a 10½-game lead to friendly Yankee Stadium, where they have won 36 out of 52 games this season.

In the other American League contests Cleveland beat the Boston Red Sox twice, 8-5 and 4-1, the

Football All-Stars Break the Four-Year Monopoly Held By Professional League Champs

By DAVE HOFF

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 26.—(P)—Sammy Baugh was "right," the Washington Redskins acted the part of professional champions but what can you do against the greatest collection of collegiate all-stars, fellows who have had the benefit of magnificent coaching?

The answer would seem to be: Lose. And that's what the Redskins did last night. Not only did they bow to the Harry Stuhldreher-coached 1943 All-Star edition, but they took the worst thumping of any pro team in the 10-year history of this traditional preview of the nation's football season.

The score was 27 to 7, a supremacy margin that outdid the performance of the 1938 All-Stars, who also defeated Washington, 28 to 16. That, incidentally, was the last time the collegians had won

Doe Hunting Permits Vital Officials Say

Harrisburg, Aug. 26.—(P)—The Pennsylvania Game Commission insisted today that special permits to hunt antlerless deer are necessary to prevent concentration of hunters and to protect the future of the sport.

An open season on does Dec. 13, 14 and 15 in eight northern counties has been declared to correct an unbalanced sex ratio and relieve complaints of damage to farm crops. The counties are Cameron, Clinton, Lycoming, McKean, Potter, Sullivan, Tioga and Warren.

President Roy Green of the Cameron Rod and Gun Club declared the commission is "taking our northern tier counties for a ride" and despite the meat shortage is "taking this critical time to swell its coffers with $55,000 which it expects to collect."

The 1939 legislature reduced the price of special permits from $2 to $1 and authorized land-owners to hunt antlerless deer without permits. The commission asserted "it was clearly the intent of the legislature that the game commission should issue permits whenever in its opinion it is necessary to avoid over-crowding as well as over-shooting in a given area."

Recommendations on the open season were submitted to leaders of organized sportsmen three months before adoption by the commission, said the statement.

Forge Team Champions of This District

The National Forge baseball team has been conceded champions of the district without playing any more games with the Corry Merchants to decide the issue.

This was revealed today when it was announced that the remainder of the games to decide the title had been called off, much to the regret of local fans who turned out to the contest at Russell Field last Sunday.

The National Forge is still booked to play the Hope Window Co. team of Jamestown, at the State Hospital Friday evening at 6:15 o'clock.

The thing that floored the 50,000 who crammed Northwestern University's Dyche Stadium was the spectacular fashion in which each of the All-Star touchdowns occurred.

In the first period Missouri's

Bob Steuber took a Redskin punt at midfield and scampered 50 yards for a touchdown, a placement by Wisconsin's Pat Harder making it 7 to 0 in favor of the All-Stars.

Baugh, who ended up with 273 pass completions good for 272 yards, chucked a four-yard throw to Joe Aguirre good for a Redskin touchdown opening the second period and tying the score, 7 to 7, after Bob Masterson's placement kick.

But the All-Star's Glen Dobbs, who was an All-American from Tulane University last fall, threw to Harder in a play carrying 37 yards for another touchdown, Harder's kick making it 14 to 7.

Along in the third period the Redskins, with Baugh pitching, were sneaking deep into All-Star territory, and Sammy lofted one for a touchdown try. Instead Northwestern's Otto Graham intercepted on the three-yard line and proceeded to knock the audience—and the Redskins—cold by traveling the entire 97-yard route for a touchdown.

The All-Stars, before the game was over, cut loose Pat Harder on a sideline sprint for 33 yards and a fourth college touchdown, and Stuhldreher sent in reserves so fast the officials got eyestrain counting noses before the gun sounded.

Dragon Squad Looks Good In Its First Practice of Season

Most of the members of the Warren High School football squad of approximately 110 athletes turned out for the first practice session at Beatty Field Wednesday afternoon under the watchful eyes of Coach J. B. Leidig and assistants. Last evening from seven to nine at the high school building the first "lecture" session was held. This schedule will be continued daily for the next week.

Last fall it was expected that five lettermen would be back with the team this year, but due to the fact that the family of Rev. E. P. Wroth will be moving to Erie where Rev. Wroth is to be consecrated bishop next month, Lane Wroth will be missing. This is considered quite a severe blow to the prospects of the team since Wroth had demonstrated the past two seasons that he would be an important cog in the plans this year. He has a fine attitude toward the game and the players, and will doubtless make a valuable addition to some Erie eleven.

Lettermen who are back are Gerald Vesting, who plays equally well either half or fullback; Guy Arrigo, backfield man; Chuck McLean, who has been playing one of the end positions, and Wayne Schneider, lineman.

Some of the boys who look like they may make the first team this year are Snyder, Zobriest and Siriano, all hustlers and hustlers to be on the starting squad. Others are Green, Tome, Carlson and Adams.

All in all there is every reason for Blue and White grid fans to look forward with confidence that the 1943 edition of the Dragons will give a good account of themselves during the next three months.

Franklin High Is Without a Grid Coach

Another hole may be shot in the schedule of the local gridgers of Jake Leidig's clan if Franklin should fold up its football team, an stow them in he moth balls.

The resignation of Allen H. Tripp, high school physical education instructor and football coach, has upset plans for Franklin's football season and may make it impossible to carry on.

The Franklin school directors and Superintendent Karl M. Russell, however, are deeply concerned over filling Tripp's position and the board must find a qualified instructor to fill the post of physical education instructor before next Monday when the school term opens.

E. Treadwell, Franklin High School athletic director, is seriously ill in a Buffalo hospital and although his condition is reported as being improved he will not be able to undertake his school duties for some time. Otherwise he could assume the coaching task, a place he formerly held.

This makes the outlook dark for the gridiron sport in Franklin and the schools who have Franklin on their schedule are watching the situation. Oil City has two games booked with the Franklinites and they are endeavoring to get some tentative games set up should Franklin fold up for this year.

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filaments which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Uniform Milk Price Estimated at $3.24

New York, Aug. 26.—(P)—Dr. C. J. Blanford, New York metropolitan milk marketing area administrator, estimated today that the uniform price of milk delivered this month to plants in the six-state New York milkshed included Pennsylvania and New Jersey would reach $3.24, or 20 percent over the August 1942 rate.

The administrator forecast that the volume of approved milk received this month at 459 plants would amount to approximately 485,000,000 pounds.

The New York pool, he said, priced 515,235,795 pounds last August.

Dr. Blanford said that the six percent decrease is based upon estimates that the average daily delivery per farm this year would remain level with last August's 291 pounds and added that a six percent reduction in the number of farms inspected for the area accounts for the anticipated decrease in volume.

County Wheat Goal for 1944 Is 890 Acres

A wheat acreage goal of 890 acres for 1944 was announced by W. L. Armitage, chairman of the Warren County AAA Committee.

In commenting on this goal, Mr. Armitage stated that no farm goals will be established by the County AAA Committee and that farmers are now urged to plant all the available acreage to wheat that is not needed to grow other essential food and feed crops.

There will be no wheat acreage restrictions or wheat payments in 1944, he said. The only factor of control will be the farmer's judgment as to the wheat acreage that will best fit his crop rotation, livestock operations, available labor and farming equipment. It is believed by the County Committee, Mr. Armitage concluded, that 890 acres

Farewell Is Given Pastor Leaving Soon

Members of Bethlehem Congregational church, who will welcome a new pastor in the person of Rev. P. Elmer Landerdahl, of Garfield, Minn., in early September, met with friends in the church last evening for a farewell for Rev. and Mrs. Erik Dahlheim.

Rev. Dahlheim came to Warren last November and has ably served the congregation as supply minister until a regular pastor could be secured. David Scott, Sr., was in charge of the program for last night's farewell, the numbers including congregational singing, Scripture reading and prayer; piano duets by the Misses Adelaide Swanson and Beatrice Peterson; vocal duet by the Misses Virginia Fredrickson and Alice Swanson; remarks by Miss Jane Barlow, missionary on furlough, and Rev. K. Berlin, of Sugar Grove.

A purse of money was presented the departing couple, both expressing their appreciation in brief responses. All joined in singing "Till We Meet Again" and Rev. Berlin pronounced the benediction.

All were then invited to the church parlors for refreshments and a social hour.

Rev. Dahlheim will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday, August 29, and, with his wife, expects to leave early next week for Minneapolis. They have made many friends since coming to the community to serve the Bethlehem pastorate.

Rev. Landerdahl expects to arrive with his family about September 8.

EAST HICKORY

East Hickory, Aug. 23.—The Methodist Sunday School will be held as usual next Sunday morning, and the sessions have had the average attendance, with no slump during the summer months.

Rev. Fred Smith of Tidouche held services at the Free Methodist church last Sunday, and afterwards called on several homes, including C. W. Howe and family.

While driving along the highway, near the Town Line church at Whig Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones, Sr., met a rattler, of the black variety, which was thirty-eight inches long with eight rattles. This was a surprise, as very few rattlers have been seen in that neighborhood.

Miss Mabel Combs who is employed at Oil City, spent Sun. and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Combs.

Harold Infield is expected home this week, on furlough, which he will spend with his mother, Mrs. Helen Infield.

LOUNSBURY CORNERS

Lounsbury Corners, Aug. 19.—The box social held at Friendships Friday evening by the P. T. A. was well attended considering the rainy evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Coppenhofer, Mrs. Robert Chalmers and Parepa Wholeben were visitors in Jamestown last Tuesday.

Word was received this week by Mrs. Mable Brainard that her son, Pvt. Charles W. Gates, has been given the rating as Private First Class. Pvt. Gates is stationed at Camp Hood, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Russell, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schrader, Silver Creek; were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chalmers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burke and son, Douglas, of North Warren, were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Lounsbury.

The farmers here are one by one finishing their haying, which was a very heavy crop this year. Callers Sunday at the William Tremain home were Frank Barton and son, Lewis, of West Hickory; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knopf; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McNutt and two children, of Dougherty Run; Mrs. Mabel Brainard and son, Edw.

Lewis Barton is spending week with his grandmother, Mrs. W. F. Tremain, before returning to his school work at Corry.
